Ike's Crusade Successful So Far

Eisenhower Facing Real Test In France

PARIS (AP)—President Eisenhower's new crusade in Europe for Western unity appears to be a big success so far on just about every count. But the real test faces him in France.

Europe's future could be vitally affected by Eisenhower's meeting with French President Charles de Gaulle.

The two old soldiers have known each other from the days of World War II, along the rocky road to victory and the rocky road of peace. Now new problems beset them.

On his visits to West Germany and Britain, Eisenhower faced no major disagreements or misunderstandings. In Paris, however, the questions at issue are delicate and far-reaching.

They include:

(1) U. S. support for France in the Algerian war; (2) France's part in shaping Western global policy and her role in NATO; (3) France's ambition to become an atomic power; (4) French uneasiness over Eisenhower's meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Failure to ease these problems could leave France isolated from her allies, a dangerous situation for both France and the Allies.

The Algerian war is of the greatest immediate importance to France. De Gaulle thus far has been unable to end the rebellion against French rule, now in its fifth year.

France wants and needs U. S. support in the United Nations for her Algerian policy. The United States, while sympathetic to France's problem, doesn't want to alienate the Arab world. Both governments would like to reach an understanding before the Arabs bring the Algerian issue before the U. N. this fall.

French demands for an equal voice with the United States and Britain in shaping Allied policy and French plans to become an atomic power by exploding an A-bomb in the Sahara Desert are related. De Gaulle appears to feel that if the test is successful he can claim admission to the atomic club. Presumably a stronger French position in the creation of Western policy would follow.

The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union have suspended their nuclear weapon tests while they negotiate slowly toward a ban on such tests. There has been speculation that the Soviets would start testing again if the French explode their weapon.

Obtaining De Gaulle's wholehearted support of the North Atlantic Alliance will require all Eisenhower's persuasive force. To underline his demands for a bigger voice in the alliance, De Gaulle has withheld cooperation on various fronts.

There has been a marked coolness in France to the Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting. The French seek no lasting good to come of it. There is always the nagging suspicion that international negotiations may be heading toward a two-power basis, leaving France on the outside.

Eisenhower is known to feel his

Railroad Unions May Scrap Clause On Cost-of-Living

NEW YORK (AP)—Eleven railroad unions have offered to scrap the cost-of-living escalator clauses in their present wage agreements, it was reported today.

But their proposal has brought no acclaim from the railroads, the New York Times said in reporting the move.

The escalator clauses are intended to protect the workers against inflation. Wages are automatically adjusted to fluctuations in the States consumer price index.

The striking United Steelworkers Union of America and labor generally are fighting to keep the clauses, the Times noted.

It added that the employer pressure to abolish the clauses, which now covered four million workers in the nation, is based on a belief that they have added so much money to payrolls that they are inflationary in themselves.

The Times story also said: the proposal to cancel the escalator clauses in future contracts was made by unions representing nearly 700,000 railroad machinists, clerks and other nonoperating employees in connection with their demand last Monday for contract improvements.

What made the proposal unpleasant news for the railroads was the explanation by the unions that they did not intend to bind themselves to any long-term no-strike commitment in the new agreement.

A spokesman for the railroads said they want to get rid of the escalator clause, but without losing the stability of a long-term guarantee against new contract demands.

The five railroad brotherhoods representing engineers, firemen, trainmen, conductors and switchmen have notified the railroads that they want the escalator clause continued.

One-Day Strike Ended

Bliss Co., Union Agree To Extend Contract

An extension of the contract between the E. W. Bliss Co. and Local 3372 of the United Steelworkers of America was signed at 7:10 last night, ending a one-day strike at the local rolling mill division.

Representatives of the company and the Canton union are meeting this afternoon in an attempt to end the one-day strike there. Two Bliss plants in Pennsylvania have been out on strike since July 31.

The extension agreement, which was approved by the union membership, expires 30 days after the settlement of the basic steel industry strike, which is now in its 50th day.

This is 30 days before the end of contract extensions agreed upon by Youngstown Kitchens and United Tool and Die unions prior to their contract deadlines Monday at midnight.

After some 350 production and maintenance workers walked out Monday at Bliss, rumors began circulating through the city that the membership hadn't voted at Sunday's meeting to turn down the company's proposal.

These rumors were emphatically denied today by Local 3372 President Charles Senior.

"The membership knew exactly what they were voting for," he declared. "In fact, the motion was read three times. There was not one dissenting vote," he asserted. He said 99 per cent of the union's members voted on the issue.

In answer to another rumor that an out-of-town U.S.W. representative called the strike over the members' heads, Senior declared, "The international representatives

CANFIELD — Last minute preparations are being made for the opening of the 113th annual Canfield Fair which will get under way Thursday and run through Labor Day.

Concessionaries have been arriving in a continuous stream over the past 10 days, and building and maintenance crews have been working day and night to get everything in readiness for the big opening.

Fair Board Secretary Grace E. Williams has been handling all fair business from the office on the grounds, since Aug. 24 when she moved out of the "winter quarters" on W. Main St., Canfield.

Racing Activities Lineup

Speed Superintendent Bob Rose reports a fine lineup of racing activities with 15 pace, 21 pace, 24 trot, and 23 pace runs scheduled for Friday afternoon, with a purse of $3,000 being offered.

Pony and mule races will be run off between the harness races.

The Saturday racing schedule calls for All Trot, 18 trot, 18 pace, and 28 trot events, with purses to

Councilmen Air Use by Trucks Of Side Streets

Safety Director on Carpet Over Repairs To Police Cruisers

Are trucks avoiding the truck-weighting scales on W. State St. by taking circuitous routes through the city over streets not designed to bear such heavy loads?

That was the question Republican councilman-at-large Carl Abe raised at the regular session of city council last night. The head of the rules and ordinances committee wanted to know if the tractor-trailer rigs driving down Prospect St. could be regulated.

Abe said 14 truck-trailers, six of which were loaded with coal, had been counted by one person on Prospect St. during a five-hour period.

Council President Curtis Vaughan told Abe some of the trucks were bound for the Cross Oil Co. at 445 Prospect St. He explained the truckers drive along Sharp Ave. and then to Prospect St. where they refuel.

Believe Trucks Overloaded

Some councilmen believe some truckers are by-passing the weight scales because they are overloaded. The lawmakers are also worried about the damages the heavy trucks might cause to the streets.

Safety Director Joseph Fester, who was under fire most of the evening, told Council that James A. Cross, owner of the oil company, had made some complaints about police stopping some of the trucks headed for his station.

City legislators may give further study to a suggestion that a load limit be placed on the streets which would prohibit the loaded trucks from traveling on Prospect St. and Sharp Ave.

Tires for Police Cruiser

Fester was also grilled by Council and its president on the question of tires for the two police cruisers. The department has purchased 13 tires at a cost of $281 during the past six months.

The question of repairs came up when Clerk of Council Charles Alexander read a letter from the safety director which said the police maintenance and equipment fund was overdrawn $63.30 as of

East Palestine Man Injured As Auto Crashes Into Train

An auto-train collision Tuesday night at 9 on Rt. 165 (Taggart St.) at the edge of East Palestine sent a 19-year-old East Palestine driver to Salem City Hospital where he is in "fairly good" condition today.

Thomas E. Cartwright of 62 Oak St. suffered possible chest injuries, a cut lip and contusions of the chest when his auto struck the sixth of a string of freight cars which were being pushed into the Natco Fireproofing Co. yards by a switch engine.

Reportedly, there was a watchman on duty at the crossing at the time of the mishap. The engineer was an Alliance man, Robert G. Bryan.

Arrested by Lisbon post highway patrolmen for failure to stop in assured clear distance ahead, Cartwright was treated first by a private physician and later brought to the hospital. The auto was extensively damaged.

Enrollment In County Schools Totals 5,440

First day enrollment Tuesday in Columbiana County's 15 rural system schools was approximately 5,440, compared to 5,525 for the first day in 1958.

The decrease reflects the loss of 180 pupils of Fairview School in the Southern Local District to the Wellsville city school system.

District administrators said they expect to "pick up" a few students this week and should be at full strength after Labor Day.

Beaver Local District enrolled 2,084 pupils in seven buildings for an increase of 23 over last year. A breakdown follows with last year's figures in parentheses:

Calcutta 417 (375), West Point 135 (130), Elkton 115 (123), Oak Grove 55 (40), Rogers 153 (142), Beaver Local Public School 689 (730), and Beaver Local High School 521 (516).

Fairfield - Waterford District reported 961 pupils, compared to 864 last year. Waterford School had 450 in kindergarten through grade 8, while the Fairfield building had 307 in kindergarten through grade 5, and 204 in High School.

United gained 67 pupils, enrolling 1,203. The High School has 326 and grades 1-8 have 877.

Southern Local's four schools enrolled 1,043, down 183 from last year when Fairview was part of the district. Comparative figures follow by schools:

Salineville, grades 1-8 353 (360); High School 226 (232). No. 16, 167 (170), Highlandtown 161 (166), and Wayne 136 (118).

No figures were available from Franklin Local at Summitville since its phone has not been connected. Attendance was estimated at 150 compared to 148 last year. It is the only eight-year district in the system and sends its high school pupils to Salineville.

Repaving Payments Not Due for Months

Persons who have received assessment notices for the cost of blacktopping portions of Rts. 62, 45 and 9 in Salem can relax for a few months. They won't have to pay their share of the costs for three or four months.

Actually, the property owners involved can't pay their bills now anyway. The assessing notices mailed by Council's clerk are only preliminary notices, Council President Curtis Vaughan said last night. Mayor Harold Smith and Vaughan said several persons had called them already wanting to know when and where to pay the bills.

City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff said state law prohibits the final assessments from being higher than the first notices sent out. So property owners will probably find their bills aren't quite as high as they thought.

Final billing will be done when the project, which starts this week with City Asphalt and Paving of Youngstown putting down the four miles of new surface, has been completed and all costs calculated, Barckhoff explains.

He told Council last night that the State Highway Department has ordered a little different type of surface for the road work than Salem residents normally see. It will be a little rougher than usual. The state told him it is not as slippery and doesn't creep, he related.

Thimayya Quits, Reconsiders at Nehru's Request

Parliament Awaits Explanation of Rift In Nation's Military

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament today that India's defense command is continuing unchanged despite a rift between Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon and Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, the army commander.

Nehru said Thimayya had resigned Monday in a dispute over the promotion of an army officer but had withdrawn his resignation at the Prime Minister's request.

The Prime Minister gave full backing to Krishna Menon, long one of his closest and most controversial advisers on foreign policy.

"Civil authority must remain supreme," Nehru declared.

This appeared to put at rest reports that Krishna Menon would be removed from the Cabinet or shifted to another post. Nehru gave no indication that the defense minister had offered to resign, as high sources in the ruling Congress party has reported.

Nehru rebuked Thimayya for resigning at a time when India's borders were in a state of anxiety.

Thimayya has been commander of the army since May 1957.

The Prime Minister made no mention of the commanders of the air force and navy, who had been reported resigning with Thimayya.

Reports of Thimayya's resignation had caused grave concern because of the occupation by Chinese Communist troops of various bits of Indian territory along the border between Tibet and India. Krishna Menon had refused to confirm or deny the reports in Parliament.

The newspaper The Statesman reported meanwhile that the situation on the Northeast Frontier appeared to have eased and said the Chinese possibly had moved away from border outposts they captured last week.

Bhutan's Premier Jigme Dorji denied in Calcutta that Chinese Communist troops had crossed the Bhutanese border. He said the situation in his country was quiet and no fresh incidents have been reported. Dorji is on his way to New Delhi for talks with Nehru.

India faced more difficulties on the home front, with rioting in Calcutta in protest against the Bengal state government's food distribution policies. Communists led the mobs, and there was speculation

Move Was Expected for Months

Hitler Seized Danzig Sept. 1'39

By LYNN HEINZERLING
Associated Press Staff Writer

The guns spoke at 4:47 a.m. in Danzig, putting the world at war for the second time in a generation.

It was Sept. 1, 1939, and the fateful shots had been expected for months. Adolf Hitler was fulfilling his promise to seize Danzig back from League of Nations trusteeship for his "greater German reich."

As the ominous rumble of gunfire echoed over the stately old city, pigeons cooed from the gables of the ancient houses. Wind-doves flew up. Hitler's storm troopers already were pasting up signs proclaiming Danzig's return to Germany.

Down in the harbor, the German cruiser Schleswig Holstein, which had slipped into port a week earlier on a "cortsey visit," was pumping shell after shell into the Westerplatte peninsula. Here the small Polish garrison in the city guarded a munitions dump.

The free state of Danzig, including the city and a small surrounding area, has been created under the Treaty of Versailles after World War I at Polish insistence. It was placed under the protection of the League of Nations.

With its many towers, Renaissance buildings and its austere Marienkirche, Danzig was one of the loveliest cities in northern Europe.

There had been no mistaking the approach of war in Danzig. For weeks, straight-backed strangers with the unmistakable bearing of the German wehrmacht had been prowling the city in civilian clothes.

The day before it happened, more strangers appeared. The stores had been crowded all day with Germans. They had the greedy, luxury-loving glint in their eyes which bespoke the austerities of Hitler's reich even before the war.

At the Deutches Haus, where I had been staying for nearly two months, it was hot and unusually quiet on the night of Aug. 31. The three-piece German orchestra in the hotel cafe signed off with a flourish earlier than usual and departed, never to return.

Shortly before 10 o'clock that night, a German with a leathery face and a demanding voice stepped up to the night porter in the hotel and said: "Herr porter, call me promptly at 4 a.m."

He couldn't be anything but a German army officer. And his early call could mean nothing but trouble.

The streets filled quickly as the gunfire in the harbor increased. Danzig Nazis raced through the streets arresting all the Poles they could find. Polish business houses were ransacked, Polish mailboxes torn down.

But down on the Westerplatte, a long narrow peninsula on which the Poles were permitted to keep a small garrison and a munitions dump, a thin little Polish major named Henryk Sucharski was doing what he had been sent there to do.

Major Sucharski, son of a peasant family in Greboszoe, Poland, had 201 men with 165 rifles, 38 revolvers, 16 heavy machine guns, 23 light machine guns, four 88 mm. mortars, two 37-mm. anti-tank guns and one three-inch field gun which really was a museum piece.

Facing him, only 700 yards away, was the Schleswig Holstein with four 11-inch guns, ten 6-inch guns and other guns of smaller calibre. In addition, the Germans had almost unlimited ground and air forces to throw against him.

It was fire from the Schleswig Holstein which brought the garrison to its posts. At almost the same time, a German ground force tried to force its way into the Polish positions. Machine guns in high buildings across a canal from the garrison also opened fire. Sucharski had his hands full.

The Polish field gun was hit by a German shell after firing only 30 rounds. But Sucharski and his men repulsed the ground attack. They repulsed two more attacks at dusk.

When night fell over Danzig, Sucharski ordered some tracer bullets fired into the sky from the Westerplatte to taunt the Germans and show he was still there. Hitler had planned to take Danzig in one day. All the decorations for a celebration had been put up in the city.

For six days and nights, while their positions crumbled about them, fires burned and their communications were destroyed, Sucharski and his shrinking band held the fort.

On the seventh day, Maj. Sucharski put on his big sword, lined up 71 men who could still stand and surrendered. The other members of the garrison were dead or wounded.

The German commander was so impressed by the gallant major he allowed him to keep his sword. But Sucharski, writing an account of the action later in a German prison camp, said:

"It was the most tragic moment of my life."

Thursday: Warsaw's ordeal.

Oklahoma Taking Legal Liquor Well

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Oklahomans took their legal liquor soberly Tuesday.

Curiosity stood in for jubilation as almost 500 liquor stores opened their doors. Sooners bought their jugs in public for the first time since statehood in 1907.

There was no singing, no dancing in the streets.

A State Tax Commission official reported sale of liquor stamps in August netted Oklahoma close to four million dollars.

A Woman's Christian Temperance Union leader said "We don't need the taxes. Nobody needs anything that comes from the devil."

In Tulsa operators said business was so brisk the first hour it was hard to handle. Then it tapered off. Some persons merely strolled through, looking at the bottles.

Prices were relatively high, thanks to the state's $2.40 per gallon tax. But they compared favorably with what bootleggers had charged. A fifth of a popular bourbon brought $4.73 to $4.85 here.

In Oklahoma City a bootlegger ordered a dozen pints of whisky to give to old customers "who stuck with me through thick and thin."

In Durant a man ducked a photographer who wanted to shoot him making one of the first purchases. "Heck no," said the man, "my wife doesn't even know I'm down here."

In Cushing an 84-year-old man told the store owner, "Son, I ain't bought a bottle since 1907. I like my nip, but I figure a man ought to obey the law."

He was a rarity among drinking Oklahomans. Most of them dealt with bootleggers or made their purchases outside the state line.

HANOVERTON MAN HONORED—Art Rush of Hanoverton, business manager for Hollywood film cowboy Roy Rogers, was honored Monday. Rush was presented a trophy for his achievements in the entertainment world by Carl L. Stacey, Columbiana County clerk of courts, in behalf of the countians. ## Wet Grounds Greet State Fair Goers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The gates opened today on a somewhat soggy, though active, Ohio State Fair.

Tuesday's rains put the squelch on some of the fair fun, cancelling the grandstand fireworks pageant and several of the harness races.

But today promises to be a brighter day.

Two of the remaining three heats in the Buckeye State Pace will be run today plus other races including the Director of Agriculture Pace.

Edgewood Royal won the first heat of the Buckeye pace Tuesday, going the mile in 2:05. The two-year-old is owned by W. L. Regan of Wilmington, Ohio.

Despite intermittent downpours, the judges continued Tuesday to hand out prizes in the various events scattered about the fair.

Arthur Hansen and his daughter, Lois Jean, of Bellevue, won the $2,000 Ohio Guernsey Futurity with their livestock entry. The prize was $400.

Howard Parrish, 16, of Montpelier, ran his total to seven championships and three trophies with his Duroc Hots.

Tom Brooks of Rt. 3, Delaware, took the grand champion Holstein trophy. Reserve champion was Virgil Studebaker of Rt. 2, New Carlisle. Larry O'Dell of Greenville took the heifer calf crown.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Only dramatic and personal, but private, pressure by President Eisenhower on his return from the continent can end the multi-billion dollar steel strike before late fall.

Victor Riesel

Even such pressure from on high would fail to budge either side unless the President reported he has found the world in crisis during his talks in European capitals.

But none of the highly placed national experts on steel and the clashing of big labor and heavy industry actually believe that Mr. Eisenhower will find such a crisis or exert such pressure. Neither will he take to the radio and television airwaves as he did during the labor bill fight.

THUS THE MEN I polled, including some of Cabinet rank, and their technical advisers believe that the steel strike will last until Oct. 1 at least. Some said they don't look for a settlement before Nov. 1.

Industry and government analysts believe that as summer goes, the real heat will hit Dave McDonald's United Steelworkers. This is long before there will be any real pressure on the 12 embattled steel companies. Here's why:

There will be no government pressure on the steel firms because there is no "hollering" yet from the Pentagon for the metal.

There will be no pressure from the big steel customers. First, because the steel consumers have up to four months' worth of material. And secondly, even after they run out of the stuff, they will want the steel industry to stand pat and "correct" the trend of pro-labor victories which have resulted in products which employ 300,000.

heavy, contract concessions in all industries since the first shots were fired in 1939.

The auto industry, for example, has enough steel to run to Nov. 1. By that time it will have perhaps a million new cars stocked up — enough to carry through until 1960.

Other industries are set for months. There is a typical General Electric plant which not only has steel pushing out the walls of its warehouses and private stores but has the metal piled up in rickety old freight cars on sidings which haven't yet been touched.

THE UNION will not be in such an unharassed position. Labor's own relief experts have been receiving reports that the strikers are just about starting to feel the pinch.

This is the end of the strike's seventh week — the beginning of the eighth. At summer's end, all extra pay and all vacation pay, which usually rolls in for five weeks after the strike call, will have ended and will have been spent.

Calls are now coming in for surplus food. Banks, utilities, stores, landlords and car financiers, having extended credit for two months, will have to tighten up.

The union's income of 2½ million dollars a month averages little more than a dollar a striker a week. Mr. McDonald will have to start digging into his union's 32 million dollar capital. And that could go fast in a modern strike. Of utmost importance is the fact that pressure will come from other unions. There are more than five million workers in industries dependent on steel and iron. And still other industries depend on these feeder industries.

There is, for example tool manufacturing (instruments and related products) which employs 300,000.

NEXT GOVERNOR—The man who will be Mississippi's next governor is Ross Robert Barnett Sr., a 69-year-old Jackson attorney. After two previous defeats, he recently won the Democratic runoff primary, tantamount to election in the one-party state. Barnett is an outspoken segregationist.

This doesn't include the machinery and electrical equipment field, which employs 2,900,000. As special steels vanish, there will be layoffs.

Each week, Secretary of Labor for the strike leaders

Mitchell will publicize the number of growing unemployed.

MANY OF THESE jobless will be employees of small businessmen — for they are the ones who don't store steel and don't have access to the 12 per cent which is still being produced. Soon the little businessmen will start screaming. They naturally will see the striking union as their opponent.

All this pressure will hit hard and loud soon after Labor Day, when the country realizes the holiday is over. According to the consensus of those experts polled, the Steel Union leaders then face their grimmest prospect.

As the noise grows and steel diminishes President Eisenhower will, under the Taft-Hartley law, summon a board of review to ask of there is a national emergency. The board will investigate. Then the President will ask Attorney General Rogers to get a court injunction ending the strike for 60 days.

Ike will reconvene the board. For 60 days it will study, report and go home without recommendations. Then the National Labor Relations Board will poll the strikers on whether they want to accept the last steel industry offer or resume striking.

This would take the NLRB pole close to the Christmas season. Whichever way the Steel Worker vote, those won't be happy days for the strike leaders.

Greenford Church To Receive Organ

Greenford Christian Church has qualified for one of 700 electric organs being given away to churches in Ohio by 37-year-old Claude Thompson of Cleveland.

The organ will be received this week and will probably be used for the first time Sept. 13.

Approximately 4,000 churches applied for the Thompson Electric Organ.

Mr. Thompson has given over seven million dollars as charity to the city of Cleveland alone.

Superintendent Smith Takes Over

Paul E. Smith has taken over the reins as superintendent of Salem public schools upon the official retirement of E. S. Kerr, a veteran educator who has been head of the Salem school system for 28 years.

Mr. Kerr's tenure of service has been one of progress and the public's appreciation is best summed up in the Board of Education's resolution citing him for "unselfish service, for leadership and direction in school affairs and for his contribution to the public welfare of the city."

Superintendent Smith, hired by the board earlier this summer, comes here from Niles, where he was superintendent four years and prior to that, for four years, was coordinator of instruction and curriculum development in the Youngstown city school system. He is no stranger on the Ohio school scene, having taught elsewhere, including college extension. Mr. Smith has been on the job here a month early and has given every indication of having a grasp of the problems of education and how to best adjust curriculum and instruction so that our boys and girls will receive the education they deserve.

We sincerely hope that his understanding of the vitally important educational process will be reflected in improved courses of instruction and a closer liaison between teachers and students so that no pupil ever falters on a rung of the academic ladder because he or she lacked adequate counseling.

Superintendent Smith faces the challenging prospect of putting the Salem school system on a par with the best—anywhere. Education is so important!

Khrushchev Is Not Quintuplets

Latest of the nonsensicalities about what Premier Khrushchev should see in the United States is a suggestion by a United States senator (Javits of New York) that he should see a civil rights debate in Congress.

That is how silly we can get about the forthcoming visit of the Soviet Union's No. 1 politician. All other efforts to be foolish will be wasted and of no avail. Sen. Javits wins the kewpie doll.

We hope the professional watchers and listeners who keep the Kremlin briefed on what is going on in the United States will be easy on us in their reports. America has not been at its best so far in the affair of the Khrushchev visit.

We have gone off the psychiatric deep end. Our cogs have been slipping.

A great many of us have been behaving as if the Russian premier were coming here in a mood to be brain-washed with fresh cider and pumpkin pie.

There has been a shocking resurgence of a credo that presumably has been put down for good — that to know Americans is to love us. Nikita Khrushchev is not coming to the United States to love us.

IT WILL not matter how many bountiful farms he may see, how many goodies he may sample, how many happy people he may meet. It will not matter how many typical towns he may inspect, how many factories he may fly over or walk through. He is not going to change his mind about his stock in trade, which is his firm belief that he is riding the wave of the future and it is his mission to rescue a part of the world which he believes is riding the wave of the past.

If he wavered from this in word or deed,

More Unfortunate Than Usual

The Communist party of India is reported to be regretting the "unfortunate border incidents" that have made Prime Minister Nehru say Indian soil has been violated by Red China.

This could be more unfortunate than usual for the Chinese Communists. It could snap the thin thread of plausibility that has given them strength in Asia out of proportion to their record as ruthless aggressors.

The Asiatics, including the Indians — even Nehru, himself, has been suspected of this — have been receptive to the Communist conspiracy because it offered them in theory an alternative to exploitation.

It has been useless to point out that nothing about the Communists justified this happy hope; that they would be as ruthless in their exploitation as the worst of the colonial powers ever had been.

In the case of the Chinese Communists, especially, Asiatics had a special margin of confidence because these were Asiatics like themselves. But as the Dalai Lama's appeal to the United Nations in behalf of his followers in Tibet now has made clear, it is no comfort to be exterminated by one's own kind.

Nor is it any solace to know that in some future border skirmish the ambush will be set by Asiatics — homegrown talent, instead of imported troops with names like Hawkins, Simpkins, Doolittle and Tomkins.

The fact is that Chinese Communists and their satellites are showing their hand in Asia, the same as European Communists have shown their hand in Europe. They intend to intrude into every room where they can find an unlocked door. They do not respect either individuals or states. They are motivated by a fanatic zeal to overwhelm everything they cannot undermine.

On a continent whose hordes once thought of strong-arming as a monopoly of white men, it will come as a rude awakening to know that even Prime Minister Nehru finally is getting a bellyful of Communist expansionism.

Once Over

It's easy to understand why the Johansson-Paterson fight has been postponed until next year. It will take months to get all the lawyers, politicians, partners, directors, briefcase handlers, congressmen, investigators, shrewd businessmen and missing persons in shape for a real modern heavyweight championship bout.

The fighters are ready but others are not in the pink. Some of the keen businessmen and politicians involved obviously need more roadwork, there are lawyers whose punching is not sharp and fugitives from the DA's office whose shadow-boxing is crude. Even one shady character who is not fit for a championship fight these days can threaten its success.

Jack Dempsey's honesty and prestige are secure. He loves the fight game and wants it kept clean. But this great boxing hero looks better in with the Willards, Carpentiers and Tunneys than with troubled promoters, two-man boards of directors and targets of the DA's office, however noble his motives.

MANY FANS are groggy and reaching for ropes on one knee at picture of idolized Massasa Mauler in the ring, not with four-ounce gloves and taped wrists but with financial reports, olive branch and golden harp.

It's like imagining John L. Sullivan switching from "I can lick any man in the house" to "Let us have peace" or Jim Jeffries suddenly playing combination roles of Oliver Wendell Holmes, Tiny Tim, Sir Galahad and any national mediation board chairman.

We like Jack in blue trunks not diplomatic pants. Where there is smoke there must be fire. If there is anything wrong with anybody the fight game he should be barred for life," he says.

That "if" isn't in character of a deadly puncher and a fast thinker. (Dempsey is no fireman but in top form he could always smell smoke and trace origin with dazzling speed.)

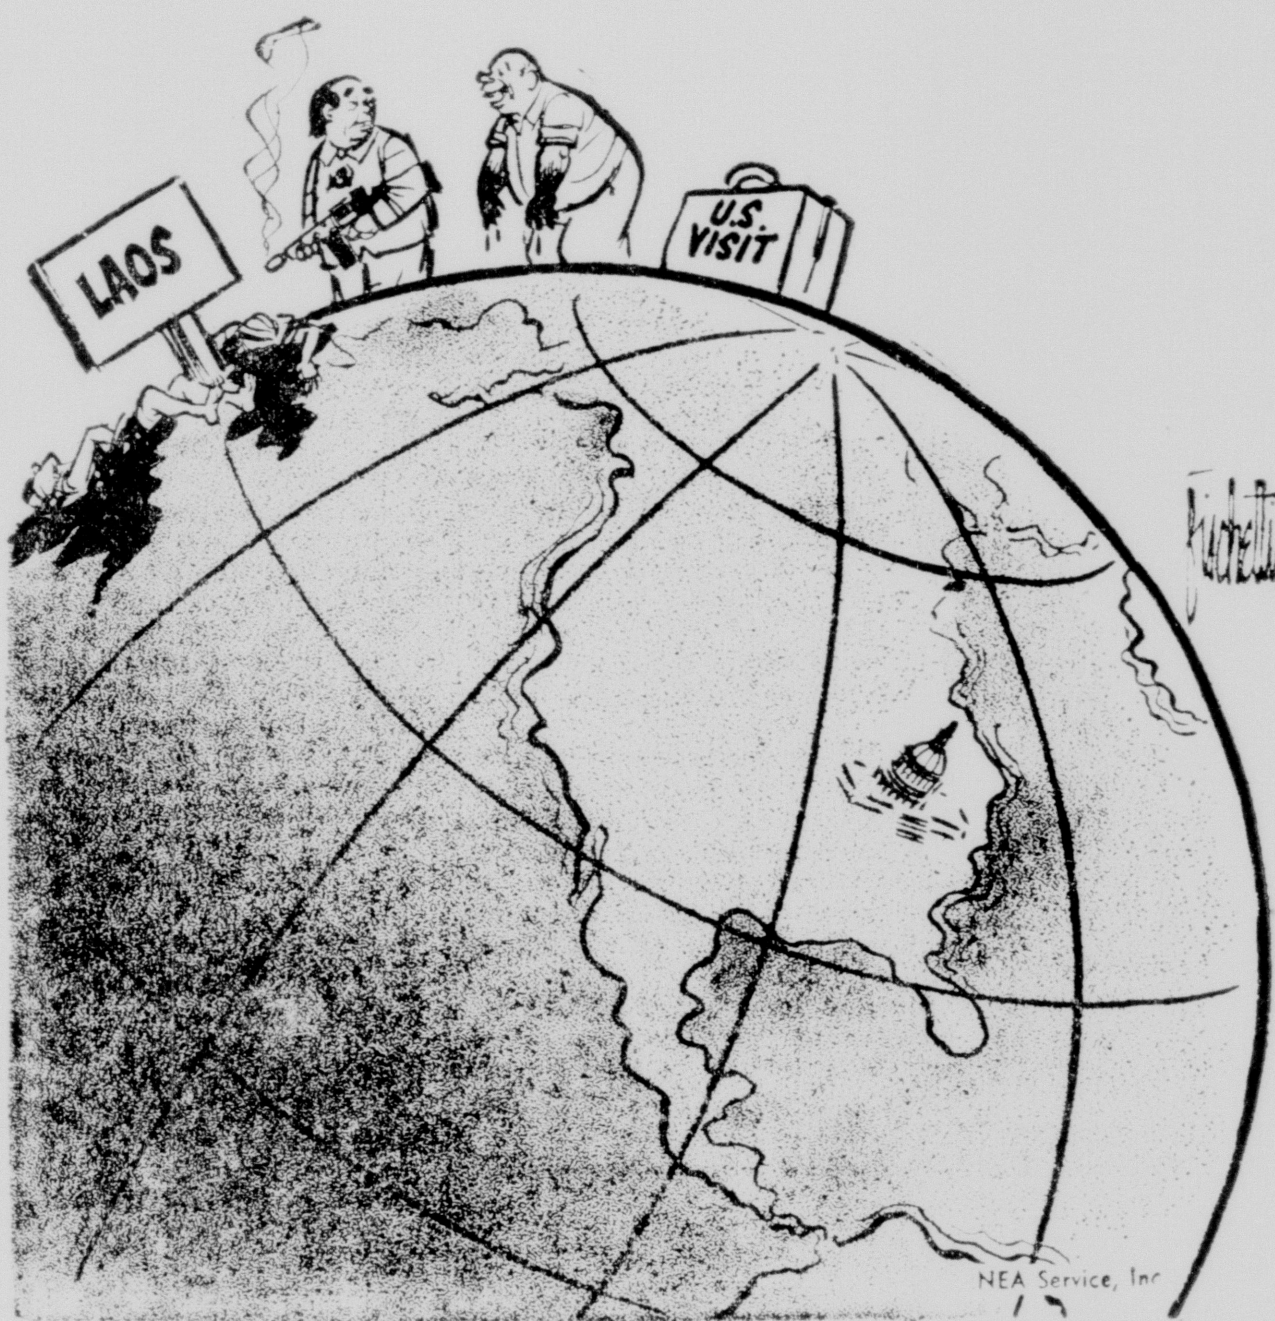

"THOU SHALT NOT SPEED," signs have been put up in a L.I. church area. Good idea but churches are not doing enough in the war against violation of "Thou Shalt Not Kill" commandment. We haven't heard even a slight reference to frightful situation in any church sermon anywhere in years. It's hard to see how any preacher can fail to devote at least a couple of minutes to it every Sunday at every service. Some old-fashioned rip-roaring sermons on it might save countless lives.

"CAN-CAN," a ribald musical, is produced in Central Park in a "dedication to the memory of Hendrik Hudson." (You remember Henry? He discovered the Folies Bergere and opened up a route to the Bump-and-Grind country.)

A Norwich, Conn., group has lost its appeal to the White House for restudy of Benedict Arnold in hope of minimizing his treacherous side. It would have been a tough job finding proper detergent to clean the record of a man who double-crossed his country, his commander, his countryman and his own armies, topping it all off by attacking his boyhood home territory with sword and flame.

Roger L. Stevens, who buys and sells theaters, promotes musicals and rebuilds cities, has bought Tanforan Race Track for five million dollars.

The Soviets Time Clock

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Every once in a while, as if Communists were punching a time clock, this country gets a jolt, a reminder that communism is a revolutionary movement which intends taking over the world.

The United States is getting two jolts now: Communist guerrillas are attacking little, almost defenseless Laos. Red Chinese have shot their way across the Indian frontier, after savagely devouring Tibet.

Last year the Red Chinese banged away at Formosa. They had tried to help the North Korean Reds take South Korea. They succeeded in helping the Communists of Indochina take over half that country.

It seems incredible to this writer, judging from the nature of communism and the performance of Red China, that it will ever cease trying to take over every country of Asia, the soft touches first, the bigger ones later.

Red China has moved so far mostly by direct, or indirect, military aggression. But it doesn't have to shoot its way in every time. It can use infiltration, internal subversion, economic pressure, threats.

The Soviet Union has been more exposed than Red China to immediate atomic attack if it got too brazen. So it has been less crude, less daring.

After the Soviet Union seized Czechoslovakia in 1948 through internal subversion and frightened the West into forming its North Atlantic Treaty Alliance, it has tried to move by pressure, infiltration, threats and economic penetration.

Because communism up to now has nipped at its neighbors a bite at a time and then sat back, waiting for the noise to dwindle, it is easy for the Western world, so long as it lives on hope, to think things may settle down.

They never have and it is questionable they will—for a long time. The Western world considered Hitler a windbag when he openly revealed his dreams of conquest. But lessons get forgotten.

The West does not seem unduly excited by Premier Nikita Khrushchev's warning that communism will bury the non-Communist world, even though he suggests the funeral services will be conducted by economics.

Time is the greatest narcotic communism has for trying to stupefy the west into hope and even relaxation. Communism, convinced it will win the world, is willing to take its time at the gambling table. Khrushchev has said so.

The whole western world will hope, but keep its fingers crossed, when President Eisenhower and Khrushchev sit down together in mid-September to talk peace. Maybe they will even reach some peaceful understandings. It is doubtful whatever they achieve will be more than a temporary peace.

By the same token, of course, the West with its military alliances and its economic help is doing much, not its utmost, to keep the rest of the world non-Communist.

Talks with Khrushchev will hardly change that. So the most it seems reasonable to expect is a truce.

Out of all this perhaps the only comfort the West can find is that Khrushchev may be deeply worried about the growing strength and ambitions of his ally, Red China. There was a time, before the communists took over China and showed their own strong will, that the Soviet Union may have hoped to rule the world. Not now. In the end, Red China may become the Soviet Union's greatest enemy.

The world hasn't reached the stage yet where the spirit of communism in any country is greater than the spirit of nationalism. Until it does, there can be no peace even for Communists in a Communist world.

One reminder of the reality of communism—the long struggle ahead — came over the weekend from the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee which released a report from one of the private research groups it has hired to study the various aspects and problems of American foreign policy.

This group warned: "The fundamental face which dominates our foreign policy problems is the determined, relentless intention of the Soviet Union to control the world. It is important the United States realize this is not an idle threat."

Appearances Deceive

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Macmillan Required to Favor Summit Meeting

Although President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan gave an impression of unity of purpose in their joint television radio broadcast from London, there were plainly apparent some substantial differences as to what are the best tactics to use in dealing with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Quite clearly the political undercurrents in Britain require the Prime Minister to favor summit meetings and personal negotiations with the Soviet Premier irrespective of the ultimate consequences, whereas Mr. Eisenhower seems to feel that even a summit meeting should be preceded by some show of progress toward peace with the Moscow government.

These postures are not new. London and Washington have made them plain before.

Nevertheless it was significant that in this impromptu conversation between the two leaders of the West the same skepticism and doubts about Soviet policy that hitherto have been expressed by the United States government are accompanied by the same words of confidence uttered by the British that somehow by continuous talk with Khrushchev solutions will be found, even if it takes a dozen meetings of top leaders of both sides.

Mr. Eisenhower, on the other hand, is troubled by the impression of weakness which a marathon of talks could produce.

He was careful to point out that talk is all right in its place as a means of exploration or search for a solution but that principles cannot be abandoned.

MR. MACMILLAN agreed broadly with this approach but he left some doubt as to whether he believes principle is worth standing on indefinitely, when he said that "we have got to be flexible about the new conditions that arise and how to deal with each situation."

The President graciously translated this into flexibility of tactics, rather than retreat on the principle itself. He said:

"In other words, you are saying strategic principle stays immutable—tactics change according to armed weapons and the different changes."

Mr. Eisenhower then, as an example, emphasized the principle involved in West Berlin, where, he said, two million free West Berliners cannot be abandoned—a case in which "we've really got to be firm, in my opinion."

While the British leader was trying hard to give the appearance of harmony, he still put in a boost just the same for his favorite concept—"flexibility." He commented: "I agree with that, and I agree also with your other principle, that we've got to use the right tactical methods to achieve our purpose."

Purely Personal

By TRUMAN TWILL

A never-fail topic of conversation has been alied by the nakedness of among grownup Americans. When you see a conversationalist holding his hands apart about so far—you can be sure he is describing the beam of a half-clad lady shopper sighted in a supermarket.

I am as curious about the appearance and performance of the new "condensed cars" as I used to be when the auto industry was building its first mass markets for mass production and consider this to be an omen of their success.

The thing about a superb climate that Temperate Zones never hink about until they are caught in a heat wave is that if the temperature stayed high long enough they would be forced to slow down and sacrifice their progress to the climate, too.

It strikes me as a great oddity that more legal beagles and bush-tailed law enforcers have gone to work on the latest boxing scandal than have gone to work after all these years on the organized vice threatening to get a stranglehold on the United States. Apparently, crookedness isn't reprehensible unless it happens in athletics.

It is not surprising to see the names of many bitter-end reactionaries and jut-jawed isolationists signed to a full-page in New York newspapers telling President Eisenhower he should have nothing whatever to do with Premier Khrushchev of the Soviet Union.

If there is one place where automatic sprinkler systems should be required by law, it is in jails, whose inmates are kept under lock and key, with the possibility the key may be lost if fire breaks out and jailers get excited.

I try not to think about the folly of expecting people to risk their lives to take dead and injured mountain climbers off perches they had been warned not to risk—usually by the people who subsequently rush to the rescue if an accident occurs.

My basic principle for improving basketball—an over-all length of 10 yards for five players—also could improve football, which should be limited to an over-all poundage of one ton for 11 players.

with a reasonable amount of adjustment that is necessary from time to time."

All this may sound as if the television broadcast was a kind of struggle with words and their finer meanings as applied to the diplomatic problems of the hour but actually the differences are ingrained in the philosophy of the London government and in the point of view toward Europe taken by the United States in the last four decades.

THUS IN BRITAIN, as the President recognized, there is a pressure for more trade with the Soviet Union and a trend toward adjustment of differences on what is called a practical basis.

The United States has been able, in connection with the policies it followed in entering the two world wars, to disassociate itself from the material side and to emphasize its many sacrifices for the cause of human liberty and freedom.

The most realistic portion of the broadcast was the pointed references made by Mr. Macmillan to the circumstances that led to the two world wars.

He thought the first world war could have been prevented and "happened by mistake," but that the second world war could not have been avoided, no matter what preceded it, "because wicked men plotted it who were determined to achieve their aims."

The British Prime Minister refers to the "danger that we might drift into something by mistake" but, unfortunately, the situation facing the world today is more like that which preceded World War II than World War I. For "wicked men" are in power in Moscow and again there is a tendency on the part of their potential adversaries to appease them.

These are the tactics which can lead to another miscalculation as to the resoluteness and determination of the West.

ALTOGETHER, the decision of Eisenhower and Macmillan to avoid the explicitness of a question-and-answer press conference and to deal instead with current problems in an implicit way through carefully chosen phrases in an extemporaneous broadcast, is a sign of the gravity of the whole situation.

While the President has undertaken his present trip to Europe in order to cement the Western alliance, he is well aware that the psychological effects of any British-American pronouncements could be far-reaching.

The alert-minded Khrushchev could take advantage of any signs of cleavage or indeed weaknesses, despite every outward appearance of unity.

The Eisenhower mission to the Allies is as important as, if not more important than, the subsequent parleys with Khrushchev himself.

The Soviet Premier knows appeasement when he sees it and recognizes irresoluteness if there is the slightest suggestion of it by word or deed.

ers. Excess length and poundage then would be penalized by a handicap of points.

I crack up with shame at inane questions fired at notables by knot-headed interviewers, as when someone asked the new Hawaiian senator of Chinese extraction how it felt to be the first Asiatic ever to sit in the U.S. Senate and he said it felt fine because he had been brought up like any other American.

My latest favorite game in television is to pretend the commercials they sandwich in are the parts of the plays, then I explain to my bored family what the new "characters" are up to relative to the didoes or the "characters" who have preceded them.

Another reason the cardinal is my favorite feathered friend is the fact he sings as exuberantly at this time of year as he sang last spring when all the other birds were singing. But all the other birds now have singed away or fall to muttering in treetops.

Vote Sought On Proposed IBOP Building

EAST LIVERPOOL — A rank and file committee has scheduled a mass meeting tonight at 8 in City Hall to push ahead with plans to seek a vote of the trade on a proposal to erect a new $342,015 headquarters building for the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

Frank Duffy, who has acted as chairman of the committee, said all local unions in the East Liverpool area have been asked to send representatives. Although IBOP officials never have revealed officially the proposed site of the new headquarters, the committee said opposition to the plan has developed principally because of reports it will be erected along Rt. 7, near the Beaver Local High School and public school.

Duffy, a turner at the Harker Pottery Co., said the union constitution provides that a referendum can be held on such a question if petitions requesting the vote are presented by eight local unions.

One of the main aims of the meeting is to seek to require IBOP officials to publish in The Potters Herald, the official union newspaper, notices of local union meetings to act on resolutions asking a referendum, Duffy said. He declared that IBOP officials so far have declined to publish notices of the meetings, as must be done before such special meetings can be held.

"We will insist on inserting the notices and if they don't we will appeal to the executive board or take whatever other action is necessary," Duffy said. Duffy is a former president of Trades and Labor Council and a brother of James M. Duffy, who was president of the IBOP for more than 25 years.

Aug. 5, with some July bills still unpaid.

Fester asked Council to transfer $2,000 to the upkeep fund. Councilman Fred Koenreich told fellow legislators only $1,000 could be transferred from the contingency fund now. The Republican-at-large is head of the finance committee. Fester wants a new cruiser this year but the financial head of Council said he couldn't find enough money to buy a police car. He added the 1960 budget approved by Council sets up funds for a new car.

Looking for places to cut expenses in the police department, Donald Cannon (R-2) wanted to know why the police didn't maintain their own gasoline pumps, as the fire department does. Citing figures by City Auditor Helen Coy Cannon said the police pay 27.9 cents per gallon while the firemen pay only 25.5 cents.

Cannon also asked his companion lawmakers why the police department couldn't start charging a fee for certain escort services. He said the police, during 1958, made 1,167 escort calls.

The second ward Republican later explained he didn't mean to include parades and funerals which were primarily traffic control problems. He cited escorts for banks and businesses as a possible method of increasing city revenue.

In legislative action, City Council approved two fund transfers and accepted a request to designate the Farmers National Bank as the depository for city funds during the relatively quiet two-hour session in City Hall.

Transferred were $2,000 from electricians help in the service department to new equipment and $150 from a special firemen's fund to convention fund. The fire department money is being used to pay for Chief Clarence Wright's trip to the national convention at Battle Creek, Mich.

A proposed ordinance placing a four-way stop sign at E. 3rd St. and Highland Ave. was given a second reading last night after a motion for a third reading was defeated.

Mechanical Defects Plague Police Cruisers

When Safety Director Joseph Fester was making his report to Council last night, there was one item he didn't mention.

The city's newest (1958) cruiser snapped an axle three days ago. It's fixed now.

The incident occurred as a patrolman pulled over to the curb on E. 4th St. and stopped. There was a sharp crack and then a radioed question: "What do I do now?"

The police department has been plagued with mechanical defects. Police blame them on the old run-down cars. Council, on the other hand, seems to feel the fault is in the way the cruisers are driven.

Sometime ago, Chief Martin Lutsch issued an order telling his patrolmen not to chase anyone. He feared a policeman might be injured if a mechanical defect in a cruiser caused a mishap while it was traveling at high speed.

Police Nab 'Dracula' In New York City

NEW YORK (AP) — Police picked up three youths today and said one of them said he was the cape-clad "Dracula" who led an attack in which two 16-year-old boys were stabbed to death Sunday.

"Dracula" earned his nickname because he wore a nurse's dark blue cape, which made him resemble the vampire of horror stories and movies.

Police said the youth identified himself as Sal Agron, of Brooklyn.

Police said he did not admit the fatal stabbings but said he "cut somebody" during the attack.

Police said three cruising patrolmen spotted three suspicious looking youths shortly after 2 a.m. today in the Bronx. First the officers collared Agron who, they said, had a knife on him. Then they picked up the other two.

Four youths have already been charged with homicide in the stabbings, and another five youths have been accused of unlawful assembly. Police said all those held are Puerto Ricans.

Police said one of the youths with Agron was Tony Luis Hernandez, of Manhattan. According to police he was the "Umbrella Man," so named because he used an umbrella as a club in the fighting. Both Agron and Hernandez are 17.

More Birth, Fewer Deaths for 1st Half

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Available figures indicate there were more births and fewer deaths in Ohio for the first six months of this year than for the comparable period of 1958.

But the Vital Statistics Division of the State Health Department pointed out that the figures are provisional and only reflect registered births and deaths. Delays in reporting may change the 1959 totals, they explained.

As they stand, department records show 109,417 births between Jan. 1 and June 30, compared with 108,689 for the same six months last year. At the same time, 45,473 deaths were noted, compared with 46,097 in 1958.

conferences in Britain and West Germany accomplished all the main objectives he had in mind when he left Washington a week ago.

The President also scored great personal popularity triumphs in Britain and Bonn. The general belief seems to be that this contributed substantially to his success in his talks with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

What was said during the meal was not disclosed.

But Eisenhower was in high spirits and in no mood to raise past antagonisms.

He placed in an honored seat at his left Field Marshal Viscount Alanbrooke, who also has had a few criticisms of his wartime leadership. Alanbrooke was Britain's top commander during the war.

Field Marshal Earl Alexander, commander of Allied ground forces in North Africa and later in Italy during the war, sat at Eisenhower's right.

Wearing dinner jacket and black tie, the President greeted each of the 25 British guests at the door.

The President put his hand under 84-year-old Sir Winston Churchill's elbow and led the party into a large foyer for a group picture.

When the photographers crowded around for a closeup, Macmillan seemed momentarily startled. But Eisenhower was amused and told the prime minister, "Now you can see the whites of their eyes."

The President then assisted Churchill to his feet and stood aside to let the aging statesman lead the way into the dining room. Whitney sat opposite the President, with Churchill on the ambassador's right.

are here to help us." He continued, "We just don't have that sort of thing. Our meetings are very democratic."

He said he was "sorry it had to happen." The union president explained the union "never had any trouble at Bliss and doesn't want any more."

The union will get all the fringe benefits and will be granted the same pay increase which the big steel unions obtain when the strike is settled, he said.

Contract negotiations will continue between the union and the company on such questions as seniority problems during the period before the expiration on the extension agreement, he added.

Contract talks were carried on by a union committee of six men and the president of the local, Senior explained. He said one or two USW staff men also sat in on the meetings. The company was represented during the talks by three or four officials.

Company spokesmen said today the union would get "essentially" the same settlement as big steel. He said the exceptions would come in the area of fringe benefits where the local company was ahead of the basic steel industry.

A local company spokesman cited the difference in cost of insurance as one of these areas. "Big steel," he said, "only pays one half the cost of employee insurance. We pay for the entire package."

Increase In Water Consumption Cited

An average of 1,694,000 gallons of water daily was pumped by the water plant to Salem users during August, Aubrey Hayes, utilities superintendent, told City Council on Tuesday night in his monthly water and sewage report.

Total water pumpage during August amounted to 52,525,000 gallons, he said. This pushed the amount this year to 381.9 million gallons, compared with last year's eight-month total of 330.2 million.

Water collections for the month of August were $17,071.49 which made a total of $119,113.71 for the year. Sewage collections for the year were boosted to $58,713.36 with an August collection of $7,854.95, Hayes said.

granges are in hot competition in their displays which must consist of items either made or grown by the members of the group exhibiting. Judging in this department is done on a point system. Premiums start at $200 for first prize, and run through 10 separate prizes and awards.

Howard F. Kohler, in charge of the hay and grain exhibit, looks forward to an excellent display. A. A. Less in charge of fruits and floral displays says that entries have been unusually heavy in both departments. Professional florists and specialists are being attracted to competition for honors in 10-foot displays which will be judged on attractiveness and artistic arrangement. Garden Clubs are competing in two classes, one for artistic arrangement and the other for gardens.

Premiums in special fruit and vegetable categories in the canned goods displays, have been doubled. The cotton bag sewing competition promises to be livelier than ever with outstanding awards, and a wardrobe display adding interest. All activities of the Junior Fair are under the leadership of a Junior Fair Board, with Bob Hammett of the Senior Fair Board advising them.

County Keeping Strict Check on Eating Places

LISBON — Harry N. Stockdale of East Liverpool, county health department sanitarian, spends over half his time inspecting and supervising the 190 food service establishments in the general health district, according to Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner.

Restaurants operate under a state license issued annually by local health departments. The County Health Department is responsible for food service places where in the county except in the four cities.

Inspections include dishwashing facilities, condition of repair, refrigeration, food storage, disposal of wastes, water supply, cleanliness of employees, toilet and hand-washing facilities, lighting, general cleanliness, etc. Flagrant violators are subject to revocation or suspension of their licenses by the Board of Health, Dr. Palmer said. Authorities state that more than 25 diseases can be transmitted through unsanitary food service operations. All restaurant workers are required to have an annual chest X-ray.

Stockdale said most operators welcome the technical assistance of a trained sanitarian and cooperate with him to assure diners a clean, safe place in which to eat.

"Dining in restaurants that observe the state sanitary code is just as safe as eating at home," he said.

Apple Growers Set Meeting Sept. 17

The speakers will be Eldon Banta, extension horticulturist at Ohio State University; Henry Ross, manager of Salem Fruit Growers Cooperative Assn.; and John Hackenbrach, Newcomerstown, manager of the Fruit Growers Marketing Association.

A kit of assorted ceramic tiles helps perk up listless home items. You can cover a tired table top or make an attractive planter from an old wooden box with the tiles.

U.S. Crime Up During 1958

93 Per Cent Hike Reported for Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Crime in the United States increased 9.3 per cent in 1958 over 1957. The year's crime clock indicated: A murder every 64.2 minutes. A forcible rape every 36.1 minutes. A robbery every 7 minutes. A car stolen every 1.9 minutes. A burglary every 46.4 seconds.

Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover jointly reported today there were an estimated 1,553,922 crimes classified as very serious offenses last year compared with 1,442,295 in 1957.

There were increases in all of the individual classifications as follows: murder, 8.182 in 1958 and 8.027 in 1957, an increase of 1.9 per cent; forcible rape, 14.561 and 12.886, 13 per cent; robbery, 75.247 and 66.843, 12.7 per cent; aggravated assault, 113.530 and 110.672, 2.6 per cent; burglary, 679.787 and 603.707, 12.6 per cent; larceny over $50, 391.550 and 354.972, 10.3 per cent; auto theft, 270.965 and 265.178, 2.2 per cent.

A crime covered in the index was committed every 20.3 seconds last year.

Youths under 18 represented only 12.1 per cent of all persons arrested. They accounted, however, for 64.1 per cent of all arrests for auto theft, 49.9 per cent of those for burglary, 48.5 per cent of those for larceny, 30.9 per cent of those for receiving or possessing stolen property and 22.8 per cent of those for robbery.

Crime increased more than five times as fast as the population. There were 206.9 serious crimes committed for every 100,000 population, or one such crime for every 111 citizens.

For every 100 persons formally charged and held for prosecution, 67 were convicted.

Bunning's 3-Hitter Gives Tigers 4-0 Win Over White Sox

Yankees Dump Orioles 5 to 0

Washington Tops Boston 7 to 4

By The Associated Press
Add another chapter to the strange career of Jim Bunning, the lean right-hander who was a surprise 20-game winner two years ago, then pitched a no-hit masterpiece—and faded.

Tuesday night he shut out Chicago's streaking, first-place White Sox, one of the toughest clubs to blank in the American League, putting them away on three singles and ending their winning string at five as Detroit took a 4-0 victory.

It was Bunning's first shutout in 45 starts since July 20, 1958—the day he no-hit Boston 3-0. It was only the sixth time this season that the White Sox, their edge over rain-idled Cleveland cut to five games, have been held scoreless.

Ted Kluszewski had two of the White Sox' hits. Luis Aparicio had the other as Bunning, now 14-10, bagged his fifth straight victory.

It also was the Tigers' fifth success in a row, matching their best streak of the year, and retained their one-game hold on third place over New York. The Yankees defeated Baltimore 5-0 as Whitey Ford and reliever Ryne Duren combined for a seven-hit shutout. Washington beat Boston 7-4, with Harmon Killebrew regaining a share of the major league home run lead with his 39th.

In the National League, right-hander Larry Jackson shut out Los Angeles on two hits as St. Louis beat the second-place Dodgers 3-0. Philadelphia defeated third-place Milwaukee 5-3. Pittsburgh and Cincinnati were rained out.

While Bunning continued his spell over the White Sox—He has beaten them four in a row over the past year and nine times out of 10 over five seasons—the Tigers added to their hex over Bob Shaw. The young right-hander, who broke in with Detroit in '57, has beaten every club but the Tigers. Now 14-5 for the season, he's 0-3 against Detroit.

The Tigers tagged him for nine of their 12 hits and all their runs in his five innings, giving Bunning the run he needed in the first inning when Larry Osborne singled. Harvey Kuhn doubled and Al Kaline hit a sacrifice fly. Kuen was 4-for-5, upping his AL leading average five points to .356.

Five singles gave the Yankees three first-inning runs against loser Jerry Walker. They got their other two against Arnie Portocarrero in the ninth. Ford (14-) gave up six hits, giving way in the seventh when the Orioles twice loaded the bases. The Birds had three on again in the ninth before Duren put it away. Killebrew's homer, tying Cleveland's Rocky Colavito for the lead, gave the Senators a 4-2 lead in the seventh inning. They nailed it with three runs in the eighth, two on Roy Sievers' double. Camilo Pascual (13-10) won it with Tex Clevenger's relief help. The Nats were out 13-8, but collected 11 walks, eight by loser Earl Wilson (1-1) in 3 1-3 innings.

Brown Concerned Over Team's Pass Receiving

Pasadena, Calif. (AP)—Coach Paul Brown admits concern over a department in which his Cleveland Browns figured to be strong—pass receiving.

Cleveland's first-line receivers, flanker back Ray Renfro and end Billy Howton, haven't performed up to expectations.

Renfro, in his eighth season as a professional, dropped two passes in last Sunday's 17-14 loss to the San Francisco 49ers. On one of the plays, he was behind the defense and a catch would have meant a touchdown.

Howton, the same size as Renfro, six feet and 188 pounds, caught his first long pass of the exhibition season Sunday for 34 yards. He was acquired from the Green Bay Packers.

Although Howton and Renfro are playing below par, Coach Brown has been impressed with his reserve receivers—Frank Clarke and rookie Gene Cook. Both are speedsters and Cook, who played college football at Toledo, picked up the pass patterns in a hurry.

Oklahoma City — Alvin Green, 178, Big Springs, Tex., outpointed Ezzard Charles, 201, Cincinnati, 10.

TEN WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1959

SALEM HIGH PASSER—On the throwing end of what Salem High Coach Earle Bruce hopes will develop into a potent passing attack this season will be senior quarterback Vince Horning. Although a proven defensive performer as a cornerback, Horning passed only seven times last year, completing four tosses good for 94 yards.

Sports Glances

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

North Georgetown American Legion Post 574 may have pulled a real coup in obtaining the first annual state and national track rabbit championship races for Lake Placid this year. Even if the sport flames out as fast as it sprang up this summer, the events will draw their share of national attention.

One large Florida city reportedly made a strong bid for the annual event, but Lake Placid Speedway got the nod because of its more centralized location and fine track.

More than a hundred young drivers from 42 local racing associations have already registered for state competition Sept. 19-20. The national meet is slated for Oct. 3-4. Race officials are preparing the Speedway for the big events, including setting up parking facilities for 1,000 cars.

Track rabbit races for boys 6-16 are run each Sunday at Lake Placid. Time trials get underway at 1:30 p.m. and the races start at 2:30.

OUT OF TOWN POLO fans find it difficult to understand the seeming lack of interest in the sport in Salem. The crowd at last Sunday's game here with Mahoning Valley was the largest of the season, but the majority of those in attendance were from Youngstown and western Pennsylvania.

Not only does Salem consistently field one of the top teams in the area, it also has one of the best playing fields with plenty of room for spectators who can sit as close to the action as they dare.

Polo is an expensive sport and has been maintained here for 20 years without burdening business people with special requests for funds. Money taken in at the gate seldom pays even for the cost of transporting horses. The participants play without expectations of profit.

The Salem Club will be on the road until Sept. 27 when it will entertain Beaver Valley on Ellsworth Road field. A good turnout at this game would go a long way in showing the Salem Polo Club that the sports fans of this city appreciate its efforts. Besides, spectators won't be making any great sacrifice of their time and money because polo can rival any sport when it comes to providing thrilling action.

FOOTBALL COACH Earle Bruce is still not sure he made the right move when he switched Ron Janovec from fullback to left halfback this week. "He just doesn't run like a halfback," the coach commented.

It's not that the junior doesn't have the speed. It just takes him a few extra strides to get underway. Like most of the squad, Janovec has been more impressive on defense than offense.

Although the team has shown little in the way of a passing attack in its early drills, the coaches insist that the club is not too bad off in this department. "We

Score to Face Athletics Tonight

Herb May Pitch In Chicago Sunday

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians will watch Herb Score carefully tonight, hoping to see the left-hander display a spark of his once brilliant form.

Score, with a 9-10 record this season, hasn't started a game since Aug. 15, when the Detroit Tigers drove him from the box in the third inning after collecting five runs.

A 20-game winner in 1958, Score was lost during the 1957 season when hit in the eye by a batted ball. A sore arm kept him sidelined much of last season.

He showed flashes of winning form earlier this season, then developed trouble getting the ball over the plate.

Score will start tonight against Kansas City. He will be opposed by Ned Garver (9-10). Both were scheduled to pitch Tuesday night's contest, but it was rained out and rescheduled as part of a two-night doubleheader Sept. 25.

"If Score does a good job against Kansas City, I'll come back with him in Chicago Sunday," said Joe Gordon, Indians' manager.

Gordon, who still has hopes of atching the league-leading White Sox, picked Jim Perry to open against the White Sox and Early Wynn Friday. Cal McLish will hurl for the second-place Indians Saturday.

Despite Chicago's four-game sweep of last week's series in Cleveland, Gordon notes that "if the White Sox lose a couple to Detroit and then we beat 'em three straight, we're right back in it."

The Tigers cooperated with Gordon's plan Tuesday night by whipping the White Sox 4-0, trimming Chicago's lead over Cleveland to five games.

The Indians will have had plenty of time off when they meet the White Sox Friday. Thursday is an off day on Cleveland's schedule. With the rainout Tuesday, Cleveland will have played only one game between the two weekend series with Chicago.

Diller Hanover Will Face 14 In Today's Rich Hambletonian

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Seldom by Emily's Pride. It rained Tuesday day but the forecast was for clear weather.

Post time is 2:30 p.m. (EST) with succeeding heats hourly until one horse wins two of the one-mile dashes.

This 34th Hambletonian carries a $125,284 gross purse, richest harness race ever. The winner's share is $73,655.

Diller Hanover drew the No. 2 position. That's all the advantage most fans figured he and veteran pilot Frank Ervin will need. Among his main competitors, John A. Haover and Circo were in the front line, but Diller's stablemate, Tie Silk, was next to the outside in the second tier.

Diller's career record is 23 victories in 34 heats and earnings of $132,117. He won more races last season than any other juvenile and was runner-up in earnings to Circo, second greatest two-year-old money winner of all time.

Diller's regular driver, Ralph Baldwin, fulfilled a contract obligation to drive Tie Silk.

Neither Baldwin nor Ervin have ever won a Hambletonian.

John A. Hanover, driven by Stanley Dancer, is the only Hambletonian entry eligible to win trotting's triple crown. He won the Yonkers Futurity and is eligible for the Kentucky Futurity. Other Hambletonian horses and their drivers are: The Lodger, Cecil Champion; Flight Song, Lou Huber Jr.; Spike Hanover, Joe O'Brien; Newport Dillon, Del Cameron; Tartan Hanover, Jimmy Wingfield; Algiers Eblis, Walter Paisley; Yankee King, Van Carter; Lord hutney, Jim Hackett; Lady Belvedere, Del Miller; Farand Hanover, Sanders Russell, and Rodney Peck, Benny Schue.

Wednesday Schedule
Pittsburgh at Cincinnati (2-Tw)
Philadelphia at Milwaukee (N)
St. Louis at Los Angeles (N)
Cleveland at San Francisco

Buffalo Wraps Up Il Pennant Race

By The Associated Press
The Buffalo Bisons have their first International League pennant in 10 years today, but it took a castoff from the American Assn. to turn the trick.

Bill Taylor, whom the Bisons bought from Charleston at mid-season, delivered a one-out home run in the ninth inning against Montreal Tuesday night to get the Bisons home, 1-0.

It was only the third hit off loser Babe Birrer. A crowd of 13,455 watched Kerby Farrell's men get the pennant in their 14th game.

In other IL action, Havana edged Richmond 3-2 in 16 innings, Toronto won its fifth game in six starts, 4-1, over Rochester, and Columbus beat Miami 4-1.

Michigan State holds the record for the most consecutive IC4A cross-country team championships, winning five straight from 1933 to 1937.

Pirate, Redleg Game Rained Out

By The Associated Press
You'd think those Los Angeles Dodgers have a mental block when it comes to closing in on the National League lead.

Start in May. They were tied for first in mid-month, then lost five in a row and fell to fourth. It took 'em more than a month to get within a game of the top on June 23 after winning nine of 10. Then they lost four out of five.

They were only a half-game shy at the first All-Star game break. Then they lost five out of seven. Twelve days later, they were just a half-game behind only to lose three out of four.

They were first by a half-game July 29, then skidded to third. On August 3 they were only a half-game from first. Then they lost three straight.

Now they've missed again. After winning four of five, including two out of three from San Francisco, they had a chance to edge within a half-game of the idle first-place Giants Tuesday night.

So what happens? Old nemesis Larry Jackson shut 'em out with a two-hitter and St. Louis was a 3-0 winner, dropping the Dodgers 1 1/2 games behind.

The Giants made hay all around. Philadelphia cracked third-place Milwaukee 5-3, on pitcher Don Cardwell's two-run homer in the ninth. That left the Braves three games behind and just a half-game ahead of Pittsburgh's Pirates, whose game with Cincinnati was rained out.

In the American League, Detroit's Jim Bunning blanked Chicago 4-0, cutting the White Sox' edge over rain-idled Cleveland to five games. New York beat Baltimore 5-0 and Washington defeated Boston 7-4.

Jackson, 28, a right-hander with only a 51-50 record in the majors, upped his career record against the Dodgers to 12-5 while handing them their fifth shutout. He walked two, struck out four for a 12-12 season mark.

The Cards had only four hits, but two were home runs. Ken Boyer's 26th, a second-inning shot that extended his hitting streak to 20 games, ended Johnny Podres' winning string at four. Podres (12-6) also gave up Alex Grammas' third homer in the fourth inning and a double in the sixth by Don Blasingame, who stole third and scored on Grammas' squeeze bunt.

Cardwell, who had managed just one hit in 43 at bats this year, discarded his regular 30-ounce bat, picked up a 40-ounce cannon and tagged Bob Buhl's first pitch for the tie-breaking homer at Milwaukee. His only other home run in the majors came when he was a rookie in '57.

The big right-hander, now 9-7 with his fourth straight victory, allowed only six hits, including Ed Mathews' 36th home run and Joe Adcock's 22nd.

Buhl (11-9) had a two-hit shut-out until the sixth, when the last place Phils scored three runs, two on Gene Freese's triple.

Hot Stove League Officials to Meet

John Herman Jr., president of the Salem Hot Stove League, requests that all league officials, managers, coaches (including those of the beginners' groups), umpires, commissioners and members of the board of directors meet at the Memorial Building at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday to have their pictures taken.

Major League Stars

Hitting—Harvey Kuenn, Tigers, smacked a double and three singles in five trips, upping his American League leading average to .356 and figuring in all the scoring of 4-0 victory over White Sox.

Pitching—Larry Jackson, Cardinals, allowed only two hits for 3-0 victory over the second place Dodgers.

THE WILLIES—The San Francisco Giants plan to win the National League pennant by giving the opposition the Willies. They are left to right, Mays, Kirkland and McCovey.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

Fishing at Zepernick Lake has not been what I would call good, but on the other hand there are some large bass and bluegills in the lake that only a few people know how to get.

For instance, Clyde Bailey of Salem is a fisherman who needs to know only where there are fish and he solves the problem of how to catch them.

Clyde tells me he has landed 15 bass from 2 to 3 lbs. at Zepernick's and catches bass every trip he makes to the lake. The lure he swears by is the "Skinny Minny" imitation blue mullet which was made to be used while fishing in salt water.

Last Sunday, during all the rain we had, Clyde was out in the back end of the lake among the spatter dock (lilly pads) and landed two more. Although he does his fishing out in the lake with waders, the waders meant very little during the rain and he said he was as wet inside as outside.

ANOTHER TRICK he uses to get some of those 9-inch bluegills is to fasten about a three-foot leader to the "skinny-minnie" and attach a small "gill fly. This might be called "two way" fishing, bass hit the lure while bluegills hit the fly.

He reports he has seen some of the eastern chain pickerel in the lake that were stocked this year and they appear to be about 11 inches long.

I read with interest an article written by an outdoor writer for an out of town newspaper in which he quotes a group of sportsmen saying that Ohio quail are inbred and inbreeding is the cause of a great decline in the quail population. Now plans are to buy new stock to release among the native quail in order to improve the quality.

THIS IS CONTRARY to all biological facts provided by the leading game technicians of Ohio as well as other states. If you, as an individual, want the latest information about Ohio quail, write to the Ohio Division of Wildlife and let them know the information you want and you can get pamphlets etc., on practically any subject dealing with the bobwhite quail.

Quail don't inbreed, so to speak. The Ohio quail is just as heavy now as they were when the records were begun back in the 1890's, or in fact, a bit heavier. You might see a quail running along ahead of your car that looks real skinny during this time of the year. Could be an immature or an adult with the feathers close to his body.

During the winter you might see a quail along the berm of the road with his feathers all puffed out and he would be pronounced INBREEDING DOES not affect quail or fish. Fish might become small due to overcrowding or lack of food but once removed from an overpopulated lake and placed in a new pond he will grow to normal size provided he is not ready to die of old age.

Quail remain the same but it is only logical to say they would die if they did not have food as well as cover. All things being equal, quail will reproduce each year as long as the brood stock is present. The inference that Ohio quail are small, inbred runts and not the healthy birds of 46 years ago just doesn't hold water, according to the facts at hand.

How to propagate quail and increase the numbers is a new adventure for the Ohio Game Technicians.

Dye Leading In Qualifier For Amateur

CINCINNATI (AP)—An abridged field tries anew today to complete the last 18 holes in the annual scramble for berths at the National Amateur golf tournament.

Rain washed out plans to complete the Cincinnati region qualifier Tuesday at the 6,676-yard, par 35-35-70 layout of Camargo Country Club.

When officials called a halt Tuesday, six of more than 60 starters had completed the second round. Officials decided to cancel those six second rounds and have the whole field try again today.

Paul Dye of Indianapolis led the first round with a two-under-par 68.

Six other players covered the first 18 holes with scores of 72 or better. The eight lowest 36-hole scores earn trips to the National.

Don Albert of Columbus, one-time Big Ten champ at Purdue, fired a 70. Tony Blom of Cincinnati, current state amateur king, tied with Jack Nicklaus of Columbus at 71.

Irin Rubin of Hamilton shot 38-37-75.

At Akron, qualifying for four more National Amateur spots was completed Tuesday.

Edward L. Meister, longtime Cleveland golfer, led at Congress Lake Country Club with a 1-under-par 71-70-141 yesterday.

Two other Cleveland golfers qualified—Mark McCormack with 70-73-143 and Warren K. Ornstein at 75-70-145. Don Carmichael of Columbus clinched the fourth berth with 73-74-147.

U.S. Has Won 33 Gold Medals

Track and Field Phase of 3rd Pan American Games Ends

CHICAGO (AP)—The track and field phase of the third Pan-American Games ends today, but not the crunching United States' victory march which in five days of competition has produced 33 gold medals for Uncle Sam.

As the U.S.A.'s Olympic-pointing track squad seeks a last batch of titles in a seven-even program in Soldier Field, an equally powerful American swimming legion gets down to championship action in the spanking new Portage Park pool.

The one-sidedness of this 10-day Western Hemisphere athletic carnival is underscored by the fact that, beyond the United States, the only other gold medal winners have been Cuba, with two, and West Indies, Argentina, Mexico and Chile with one each.

As the U.S.A. completes its romp in track and field in huge Soldier Field where the blazing Pan-American torch blows out next Monday, Coach Jack Werner is downright embarrassed over his squad's almost complete domination of the games.

"And we're doing this without several great athletes who will be contenders for the Olympic Games in Rome next year," said Werner.

Paced by world shotput champion Parry O'Brien and steeple-chaser Phil Coleman, the U.S.A. grabbed five more track gold medals Tuesday night. Three American women won titles, including Lucinda Williams, the flash from Tennessee State, whose 200-meter triumph made her a double sprint winner; broad jumper Anne Smith; and high jumper Ann Flynn.

O'Brien and Coleman hung up impressive new Pan-Am records, 62-5 1/2 in the shotput and 56.4 in the 3,000-meter steeplechase. Miss Smith notched a meet mark with an 1-9 3/4 broad jump.

In all the U.S.A. now has won 14 of the 16 men's events and 7 of the 9 women's events, setting 11 new meet records for men and 4 for women.

However, there was a little change of pace Tuesday night as George Kerr, Big Ten star from the University of Illinois, led a 1-2-3 sweep for the West Indies in the 400 meter, and Cuba's Berta Diaz won the 80 meters women's hurdles in a record 11.2 time.

Baseball Song Writer Dies At His Home

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (AP)—The man who wrote baseball's own song—"Take Me Out to the Ball Game"—died Tuesday night.

He was Jack Norworth, 80, song writer, actor and sports fan—once known as "the King of Vaudeville."

He died of a heart attack at his home in this seaside resort.

Norworth wrote "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" in 1908. He liked to recall that he had never seen a baseball game then and got his inspiration from an advertisement about a game at the Polo Grounds while riding the New York subway.

A baseball executive once said that Norworth's song did more to popularize and sentimentalize baseball than any other single factor in the game's history with the possible exception of Babe Ruth's fabulous bat.

Another of his famous songs was "Shine on Harvest Moon."

He was singing it in his dressing room in a New York theater in 1907 when the musical comedy star, Nora Bayes, stuck her head in the door and said: "I like that song. Will you let me use it my act?"

"Yes," Norworth replied, "if you'll take me along with it. Well sing it together."

Within a week they were married. They became the highest priced show business team in the world. They were divorced in 1913.

He is survived by his wife, Amy, with whom he recently wrote the song "Las Vegas" and a sister, Mrs. Loren Bodgett of Philadelphia.

Don Drysdale of the Dodgers, Gene Conley of the Phils, Vern Law of the Pirates and Sam Jones of the Giants have beaten every National League club at least once this season.

Valley Tournament To Be Held Saturday

COLUMBIANA — Pairings for the Valley Golf Club championship tournament have been announced by John Ryan, sponsor. The tournament, set for Saturday, will match several previous champions with some perpetual challengers. Graydon Metz, last year's winner and over-all nine-time victor in the annual event, which has been staged every year since 1932 with the exception of 1944-45, will be defending his title. He'll tee off in the 9 a.m. group, along with Dale Klingensmith and Vince Judge.

OTHER PLAYING groups and tee time include: 9:07, Jerry Kyle, Dick Mahon and Warren Laughlin; 9:14, Ed Brooks, Steve Pavelko and John DeLucia; 9:21, Ralph Knepper, Art Rohrer, Carl Steitz and Tom Richardson.

The club flag handicap event will be held Saturday, Sept. 12, starting at 9 a.m.

Mrs. Hulda Evans, supervisor of school cafeterias, has reported luncheons this year will be priced at 30 cents for students and 35 cents for teachers and other adult personnel. She urged children of the elementary and intermediate grades to purchase lunch and milk tickets on Monday of each week for the entire five-day period.

MRS. EVANS ALSO said that students carrying lunches may purchase milk at the school at a charge of three cents for a half-pint of either homogenized or chocolate milk. No other part of the school lunch may be purchased separately.

Thirteen additional registrations have pushed to nearly 30 the number of new pupils to be enrolled in the elementary grades with the opening of school next week.

A new kindergarten pupil is Douglas Barber. First grade will add Brenda Sperry. Second grade newcomers are Albert Hayes, Robert Lee Sperry, Shirley Ann Westlake and Lorre Janis Miller. New third-grader is Beverly Ann Barber. Fourth grade is adding Roger Haues and Linda Sperry. Fifth grade has Marvin Barber and Eileen Ohl. And six grade additions are Barbara Hayes and Leodis Cash.

First fall meeting of the Pythian Sisters will be held at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 9, at the lodge hall. Members are asked to take sales tax stamps to the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bell have moved to their new home on Metz Rd.

PIKE REVENUE UP CLEVELAND (AP) — August revenue on the Ohio Turnpike reached almost three million dollars and would have been higher except for the effects of the steel strike.

James W. Shocknessy, turnpike chairman, said Tuesday revenue of $2,942,600 set a new record for the second straight month, beating July's mark by $116,913. He said the steel strike resulted in 20,000 fewer trucks using the toll road, but that the 1,333, 200 passenger cars last month surpassed the one-month high of August, 1958 by 41,051.

Guarding Your Health

By Dr. EDWIN P. JORDAN

Questions and Answers

A medical detective is really needed by today's first inquirer.

Q — Everytime I take a shower — cold, medium or hot — I itch for 20 minutes regardless of what kind of soap I use. What should I do?

A — The fact that the itching occurs regardless of the temperature of the water suggests that this itching is not the result of cold allergy.

Many soaps have similar ingredients and it might be worth-while to try one of the cleansing agents, or detergents other than soap. Also, there may be something in the water itself to which you are sensitive.

In other words, a great many possibilities will have to be studied.

Q — Would you discuss blushing and the means of controlling it? It seems that when someone mentions the fact that you are blushing it brings it out even more.

A — Blushing is brought about by relaxation of the nervous control over the finer blood vessels. This control is carried out by the sympathetic nervous system and is not under the control of the will or thinking processes.

Certainly, some people blush more easily than others, but I do not know of any way to control it.

Q — After a woman of 41 years old has had her womb scraped with an operation called a D. and C. can she ever bear children again?

A — It is normal for a woman to have somewhat less chances of conceiving as she grows older. However, the operation mentioned (if not accompanied by any other procedure) is likely to increase rather than decrease the chances of pregnancy.

Q — Is there any way of keeping hemorrhoids under control? Does bending or lifting have any bad effect?

A — Hemorrhoids, or piles, are enlarged veins at the outlet of the digestive tract. Generally speaking, once developed they do not go away entirely, though the amount of trouble they cause may fluctuate from time to time.

There is no way of controlling them except to avoid constipation. If they are bad enough they should be operated on or possibly injected.

Strains, such as lifting heavy weights, may well cause at least a temporary flow of blood to these enlarged hemorrhoids and thus exert an unfavorable effect.

Q — I am a house painter and have spent a great deal of time painting on my knees. For the past two years I have noticed that when I bend my knees I hear a squeaking or grinding sound and they are somewhat swollen. Could this be housemaid's knee?

A — It certainly sounds as though you had some fluid inside your knee joint or nearby. This could be a form of bursitis known as housemaid's knee. Also it sounds as though you have some degeneration of the joint which is probably responsible for the grinding sound.

It would be advisable to get medical advice as to whether you should continue painting so much on your knees. Also, whether you should have any special treatment, such as wearing an elastic bandage for example.

On the Old Wagon

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — In middle age about the only exercise some men get is climbing on the water wagon—and falling off.

After more than a quarter century of traveling the cocktail circuit—purely in the line of duty naturally—I find myself spending more and more of my time — by choice — high and dry on the old wagon.

My reason is quite simple. I like the change of view it gives, and am getting to like it more and more.

My initiation into the cup that cheers goes back to the Prohibition days when people sat around in dimly lit apartments gulping home brew out of kitchen pans at 35 cents a pan. It was fun merely because it was illegal. The beer was green, strong enough to curdle all four stomachs of the average cow.

Later, as a cub reporter, it was pure joy to stand at the bar drinking two-for-a-quarter shots of amber spirits of grain while listening to the colorful old-timers tell how life was like in the good old days.

But one by one—in this city, in that city—the old-timers took their last one for the road, and the road never led back.

The era of social drinking came in, and the trouble with social drinking is that it isn't really social—and it isn't really drinking.

Barroom camaraderie began to disappear when they took the sawdust off the floor and started admitting women.

A coeducational saloon is like a coeducational barber shop. It is an anachronism, and has no place in an ordered world.

There is another good reason for climbing the wagon. It is more peaceful and restful.

Twenty-five years ago the taverns were inhabited by wise and witty men who said wonderful things in a wonderful way. The conversation in a tavern today is downright boring. All the people there want to do is tell each other their personal woes. The bartender der has become a wet nurse and a psychiatrist.

What is life like to a man still getting used to a high dry perch?

Well, sometimes, he does get a bit lonely for the camaraderie of vanished times, but they are times that vanished years ago. His evening now and then gets a bit monotonous, but he has wonderful mornings.

He goes to bed feeling good and wakes up feeling fine. Life holds a new awareness. He now has time to do all the things he's wanted to do, and he does them. He reads more books, goes to more plays.

In a way it's like being born again. Nothing is stale. Everything is new, as if he were seeing the world for the first time.

He feels no urge to join a temperance league or take up Carrie A. Nation's hatchet, but he does mildly wonder why in heaven he didn't clamber up the wagon sooner—so he'd have a longer joyride.

Young Girl Still Seeking An Operation

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Charlene Butts, 19, is trying another court action to obtain consent for a brain operation that may save her life.

Her attorney petitioned Wyandotte County Probate Court Tuesday for appointment of a guardian for the girl.

A guardian could authorize the surgery. Physicians say the girl has a tumor that will make her blind in two years and take her life in four or five years.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Butts of Oswego, Kan., have refused to consent to the operation. Mrs. Butts declined to say why. Charlene has said they are opposed to the operation because a masseur who examined her said surgery wasn't necessary.

Charlene's attorney petitioned District Court last Saturday to declare the girl an adult so she could consent to the operation. A 30-day waiting period is required by law on that action.

Farmers Reminded Of Soil Bank Deadline

LISBON — Columbiana County farmers considering entering cropland in the soil bank for the 1960 program year must make request for a per acre rate not later than Thursday, Sept. 10, at the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee office here.

Clifford F. Shaw, chairman, said once a farmer receives his established rate, he will have until Thursday, Sept. 25, to offer his land for contract.

Shaw reminds farmers it is not too late to sign up for the 1959 agricultural conservation program, lime and other conservation practices that will be performed between now and Dec. 31.

PROJECTIONISTS STRIKE

CLEVELAND (AP) — Twenty-five projectionists who struck against five major downtown theaters Tuesday were ordered back to work by the international union after the walkout lasted only five hours. The theater contracts with members of Local 160 of the Motion Picture Operators expired at midnight Monday. Negotiations continued.

303 TO EXPAND AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says 303 companies have announced expansions or located new plants in Ohio.

He told the Akron Rotary Club Tuesday new investment in the state amounts to 200 million dollars, despite tax increases he requested and the Legislature approved.

Marble Is Making Comeback As Sales Increase Five-Fold

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Marble is making a comeback. Since the end of World War II sales in this country have increased five-fold.

Marble-top tables and other furniture have caught popular fancy — the old ones as collectors' items, and new applications for modern furniture.

But its revival as a building material sparks even more interest. Architects stress that new applications and preparations make marble less costly than it once seemed.

After several years of almost total eclipse marble is on the way back in competition with other building materials in commercial construction. It also is being more widely used in residential building, where once it was all but banned, largely on grounds of cost.

Along with availability of thinner, less costly forms of marble, which panel. This has a marble one big talking point today is the low maintenance cost of the stone of rigid insulation. The interior in an age when labor charges are finish is Masonite or asbestos a growing item.

The Marble Institute of America says its 110 marble contractor and dealer members handle most major construction in this country and about 50 per cent of the residential use. It reports tonnage production of domestic quarries is up 20 per cent since 1954.

But imports are gaining faster. About half of all marble used in the United States is imported, compared with 30 per cent in 1954. Most of the finishing of imported marble is done here. There are 15 major producers in the United States and most of them also are importers.

Fifteen years of experimenting have paid off in more efficient and economical ways of using the material. The industry can now cut marble slabs thin enough for the current style of thin walls. It can offer a metal-framed sand-which panel. This has a marble exterior finish, backed by a core of low maintenance cost of the stone of rigid insulation. ## Ike's Vetoes Facing Acid Test Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The invincibility of President Eisenhower's vetoes faces an acid test today when the House votes on whether to knock down the veto of the big "pork barrel" appropriations bill.

Congress never has overridden an Eisenhower veto. There have been 144 of them in 6 1/2 years. House Democratic leaders claimed it would be different this time. They said they had the votes to override.

The $1,215,477,508 appropriation bill provides financing for several hundred public works projects in just about every congressional district. Most of them are river and harbor and flood control jobs. For years it has been known as the "pork barrel" bill and has been a congressional favorite because of its popularity in the home districts.

Deadline Sept. 30 For Tax Refund Claims

Annual claims for refund of federal excise tax paid on gasoline used for farming must be filed by Sept. 30.

Melvin J. Burton, district director of Internal Revenue, said these claims should be made on form 2240 for gasoline used between July 1, 1958 and June 30, 1959.

Burton said copies of form 2240 and a helpful booklet "Farmer's Gas Tax Refund," Publication No. 303 (6-58) can be obtained from the Cleveland District Headquarters Office, 626 Huron Road, Cleveland, or any of the Internal Revenue Offices located in the twenty-two counties of northeastern Ohio.

Rubber Firms
URW Agree
On Wage Hike

CLEVELAND (AP) — The 82,000 production workers of the rubber industry's Big Four producers will receive 10 cents an hour more under new agreements reached between the companies and the United Rubber Workers.

Minus the hickering involved in costly strikes last spring, both sides agreed to terms in unusually quick fashion.

Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. set the pattern Tuesday night, agreeing to the 10-cent hourly wage increase after two weeks of bargaining.

The U.S. Rubber Co., meeting with the union in Cincinnati, granted the same increase Tuesday. Within hours, B. F. Goodrich Co. and Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. announced similar agreements.

Goodrich, meeting in Canton, Ohio, and Firestone, which met here, negotiated with the union just one day.

The wage pacts, effective immediately, must be ratified by individual locals.

Agreement on the master contracts came only after the biggest strike in URW history—the walkout lasted two months at Firestone. Goodyear was the only one of the Big Four which did not experience a strike.

Average hourly wages, before the new wage agreements, were $2.71 at Firestone, $2.63 at Goodrich, $2.61 at Goodyear and $2.48 at U.S. Rubber.

U. S. Rubber, largest producer in the industry, employs 25,000 workers. One of its many plants is at Painesville, Ohio.

Goodrich has 15,000 employees at plants in Akron and Marion, Ohio and elsewhere in the country.

Firestone, with 18,000 workers, has plants at Akron and across the nation.

USW, Industry
Resume Talks
In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiations in the 50-day-old nationwide steel strike resumed here today after a recess since last Thursday.

There was no indication of any break in the deadlock.

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, heads the mediators sitting in on the negotiations.

The strike by 500,000 members of the United Steelworkers Union of America has shut almost 90 per cent of the nation's steel production. An estimated 150,000 employees in allied industries have been made idle by the strike.

The union is seeking a substantial wage increase and other benefits. The latest word from the union president, David J. McDonald, was that the union no longer had any specific contract demand on the bargaining table. Prestrike earnings averaged $3.11 an hour.

Bird Chaser
Returns To
Small Town

MOUNT VERNON, N.Y. (AP) — The bird man has returned to this New York suburban community. He is Otto Standke, 71, a Kansan who chases birds for money. At chasing starlings, he says, he's never failed.

He offered to chase the starlings out of two bird-ridden neighborhoods here for $4,000, and the city officials took him up on it.

But they set a deadline. When it was up, the starlings had left one area but were still in another.

Standke announced he was leaving — in a huff. "Only nincom-pops or damn fools would expect me to do the trick in a set, definite period of time," he said.

That was last Friday. Tuesday acting Mayor Irving B. Kendall announced Standke had agreed to return to the job, this time under several deadlines.

He has until Sept. 15 to get rid of all the starlings remaining. On Sept. 27, if there are still no starlings, the city will pay him $1,000. Three months later, if there are still no starlings, he'll get another $1,000. Next August, if they have not returned, he'll get the remaining $2,000.

He goes around banging two pancake turners, at the same time wiggling his neck, to sound a chime he hangs around it.

He hints at a secret weapon against starlings he keeps in a locked box, which he refuses to open where anyone can see him.

He says that if people will leave him alone while he's working, and not follow him around the way they did before, he'll get rid of the birds. City officials agreed to keep crowds away.

But they set a deadline. When it was up, the starlings had left one area but were still in another.

Standke announced he was leaving — in a huff. "Only nincom-pops or damn fools would expect me to do the trick in a set, definite period of time," he said.

That was last Friday. Tuesday acting Mayor Irving B. Kendall announced Standke had agreed to return to the job, this time under several deadlines.

He has until Sept. 15 to get rid of all the starlings remaining. On Sept. 27, if there are still no starlings, the city will pay him $1,000. Three months later, if there are still no starlings, he'll get another $1,000. Next August, if they have not returned, he'll get the remaining $2,000.

He goes around banging two pancake turners, at the same time wiggling his neck, to sound a chime he hangs around it.

He hints at a secret weapon against starlings he keeps in a locked box, which he refuses to open where anyone can see him.

He says that if people will leave him alone while he's working, and not follow him around the way they did before, he'll get rid of the birds. City officials agreed to keep crowds away.

Bird Chaser
Returns To
Small Town

MOUNT VERNON, N.Y. (AP) — The bird man has returned to this New York suburban community. He is Otto Standke, 71, a Kansan who chases birds for money. At chasing starlings, he says, he's never failed.

He offered to chase the starlings out of two bird-ridden neighborhoods here for $4,000, and the city officials took him up on it.

But they set a deadline. When it was up, the starlings had left one area but were still in another.

Let's Explore OHIO

OHIO in the CIVIL WAR

Maj. Gen. Quincy A. Gilmore, Swamp Angel

Major General Quincy Gilmore of Black River, Ohio, now Lorain, is probably best known for his use of the "Swamp Angel," a big long-range gun in the siege of Charleston, S.C. in the summer of 1863.

In 1849, General Gilmore graduated at the head of his class at West Point.

As chief engineer of Gen. Sherman's expeditionary corps at Savannah, he achieved distinction as a military thinker when he boldly discarded the traditions of attack upon fortified places, and planting his breaching batteries at distances never before undertaken, in less than two days of bombardment, captured Fort Pulaski, Ga. This accomplishment is said to have revolutionized the naval gunnery of the world and extended General Gilmore's fame throughout Europe as well as America.

The "Swamp Angel" at Charleston was fired 36 times and blew up on its final discharge. This famous cannon was later salvaged and sent to Trenton, N.J. with other damaged guns to be melted. It was identified and set up on a monument in Trenton.
